OFFICE HYMN. M. Lent iii. till Passion Sunday.

c. 9th cent. Tr. T. A. L.

Jesu quadragenariae.

O JESU Christ, from thee began
 This healing for the soul of man,
 By fasting sought, by fasting found,
 Through forty days of yearly round;

2 That he who fell from high delight,
 Borne down to sensual appetite,
 By dint of stern control may rise
 To climb the hills of Paradise.

PLAISTOW. (L. M.)

Slow $\text{♩} = 58$.

From 'Magdalen Hymns,' 1760 (?).

3 Therefore behold thy Church, O Lord,
And grace of penitence accord
To all who seek with generous tears
Renewal of their wasted years.

4 Forgive the sin that we have done,
Forgive the course that we have run,
And show henceforth in evil day
Thyself our succour and our stay.

5 But now let every heart prepare,
By sacrifice of fast and prayer,
To keep with joy magnificent
The solemn Easter festival.

6. Father and Son and Spirit blest,
To thee be every prayer address,
Who art in threefold Name adored,
From age to age, the only Lord.

Amen.
