from thee I will not part;
O Saviour, do not chide me!
When breaks thy loving heart,
When soul and body languish
in death's cold, cruel grasp,
Then, in thy deepest anguish,
thee in mine arms I'll clasp.

9. The joy can never be spoken,

Those wounds, yet visible above, in beauty glorified.
No angel in the sky can fully bear that sight,
But downward bends his burning eye at mysteries so bright.

7. Crown him the Lord of Heaven, enthroned in worlds above,
Crown him the King to whom is given the wondrous name of Love.
Crown him with many crowns, as thrones before him fall;
Crown him, ye kings, with many crowns, for he is King of all.

8. Crown him the Lord of lords, who over all doth reign,
Who once on earth, the incarnate Word, for ransomed sinners slain,
Now lives in realms of light, where saints with angels sing
Their songs before him day and night, their God, Redeemer, King.

9. Crown him the Lord of years, the Potentate of time,
Creator of the rolling spheres, ineffably sublime.
All hail, Redeemer, hail! For thou has died for me;
Thy praise and glory shall not fail throughout eternity.

Awhile on this low earth did stay That he might be my brother.
His mighty power he hidden bore,
A servant's form like mine he wore, To bind the devil captive.

7. To me he spake : cling fast to me, thou'lt win a triumph worthy:
I wholly give myself for thee, I strive and wrestle for thee;
For I am thine, thou mine also;
And where I am thou art. The foe Shall never more divide us.

8. For he shall shed my precious blood, Me of my life bereaving;
